EXPECT CLASH CARRANZA AND VILLA SOLDIERS

Troops Approaching Each Other at Ranch 50 Miles South of Juarez

FEAR RAID ON BORDER; AMERICAN TROOPS READY

Bandits Will Be Pursued Into Mexico if They Enter U. S. Territory

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Juarez, Mex., March 8.—Mexican de facto and rebel forces are said to be approaching each other today in the vicinity of San Martin ranch, 50 miles southeast of Juarez and a battle is expected to be imminent. General Jose Carlos Murguia and General Pablo Gonzales left Juarez late yesterday in an automobile for the San Martin ranch district followed by 400 soldiers. In all the two commanders expected to have a force of over 500 to engage the Villa band said to number about 400.

Although Mexican authorities denied Villa leaders had sent word that they intended to attack the Juarez garrison it has repeatedly been reported here and in El Paso that an invitation had been sent to the Carranza commanders to come out and give battle.

Mexican officials advanced the theory that the Villa band at San Martin does not intend to make a stand, but is engaged in ammunition smuggling operations. It is believed that Jose Ynez Salazar is in command of the band.

FORCES GUARD BORDER

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
El Paso, March 8.—American forces today are guarding the border against a possible raid by Villa troops said to be in force at the San Martin ranch about 50 miles southeast of Juarez. A machine gun company on motor trucks was dispatched to Fort Hancock, Texas, last night and it was stated that they will cross the border in pursuit of bandits in case of an incursion into American territory.

In addition there is a company of infantry and a troop of cavalry at Fort Hancock.

American officers expressed the belief that they would be able to cope with any situation that might arise.

PERMANENT GUARD IS PLACED ABOUT FEDERAL ARSENAL

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Pittsburgh, March 8.—The buildings of the United States Bureau of Mines and the government arsenal here have been placed under a guard both night and day, it became known today. Gates on two sides of the government property have been locked while on the Butler street side, admission can be gained only with a pass signed by Lauzon Stone, superintendent of the bureau, and countersigned by Quartermaster Sergeant Wm. L. Pillane, who is in charge of the arsenal. Government officials refused to discuss the new orders.

LOYALTY OF LABOR IN CASE OF WAR ASSURED, GOMPERS

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Cleveland, March 8.—The four chief executives of the railroad brotherhood organizations will meet in Washington next Monday, at the request of President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor for the purpose of discussing labor's position in case of war it was announced here today. President Wilson will be assured of labor's loyalty in case this country becomes involved in war with a foreign nation.

WAR COUNCIL FAILED TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION

First Plan Was For Naval Attack With Turkish Capital As the Objective

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
London, March 8.—The Dardanelles expedition, as far as Great Britain was concerned, was undertaken on the initiative of Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, then first lord of the admiralty, according to a majority report of the commission appointed to inquire into the responsibility of the expedition which was issued today. The report summarizes the conclusions reached as follows:

"The question of attacking the Dardanelles was, on the initiative of Mr. Churchill, brought under the consideration of the war council on November 25, 1914, as the ideal method of defending Egypt. It may reasonably be assumed that inasmuch as all the authorities concerned were prima facie in favor of a joint military, rather than a purely naval attack, such an attack, if undertaken at all, would have been of the former, rather than of the latter character, had not other circumstances led to a modification of the program. A communication from the Russian government of January 2 introduced a fresh element into the case. The British government considered that something must be done in response to it and in this connection the question of attacking the Dardanelles was again raised.

"The secretary of state for war declared that there were troops immediately available for operations in the east and his statement was accepted by the war council who took no steps to satisfy themselves by reports of estimates as to what troops were available then or in the near future. Had this been done the commissioners think it would have been ascertained that sufficient troops would be available for a joint military and naval operation at an earlier date than supposed, but this matter was not adequately investigated by the war council. Thus the question before the war council on January 13 was whether no action of any kind should be taken for the time being undertaken or whether action could be taken by the fleet alone,

MRS. WILSON NEEDS $8,000 TO BUY NEW DISHES FOR TABLE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Washington, March 8.—New rugs, draperies, furniture, table ware and other furnishings for the White House, said to be badly needed, must wait action at another session of congress, it developed today, because the $60,000 asked for that purpose failed when congress neglected to pass the sundry civil appropriation bill. Colonel W. W. Harts, superintendent of buildings and grounds in Washington, explained that $8,000 worth of new china is particularly needed because when state dinners are held it is necessary to supplement the Wilson china with pieces from two or three other presidential sets.

NATIONALISTS WILL OPPOSE HOME RULE; UPHOLD ENTENTE

London, March 8.—The nationalist members of parliament were holding a meeting to discuss the situation arising out of the debate in the lower house last night on the question for some rule for Ireland and did not sit in an appearance when the speaker took his chair in the house of commons this afternoon.

The nationalists at their meeting adopted a resolution declaring that the Irish party should remain in London in its full strength. It further was decided that the party while retaining its attitude toward the war and remaining firmly convinced of the justice of the cause of its entente allies, felt bound to oppose the government by all the means in its power.

Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer and members of the British war council, told members of the house of commons this afternoon that he saw no advantage in giving facilities for a resumption of the Irish debate.

WHEAT AND CORN RESERVE IS LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

Washington, March 8.—Corn on farms March 1 was about 789,416,000 bushels, compared with 1,116,559,000 bushels last year, the department of agriculture today announced in its March corn report.

Wheat held on farms March 1 was about 101,365,600 bushels. Last year 244,448,000 bushels remained on farms March 1.

Oats on farms was about 393,985,000 bushels, compared with 598,148,000 bushels last year. Barley on farms was about 32,811,000 bushels, compared with 58,301,000 bushels last year.

RAILROADS ABANDON COLONISTS' RATES; NECESSITY IS GONE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Chicago, March 8.—Colonist rates to the west, a custom of the railroads for twenty years, have been abandoned by agreement of managers of railroad lines, it was announced today. According to the managers, the rates were intended to promote emigration to the west and the reason for them has long since passed. It is added that in recent years low rate of one-way tickets were used largely by commercial travellers.

RUSS ADVANCE CONTINUES.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Petrograd, March 8, via London.—The Russians in Persia have made further important progress in their pursuit of the Turks from Hamadan, the war office announced today. After their capture of the Asadabad summit they continued their progress southward and on Monday occupied the town of Kangaver.

SENATORS ASKED TO DEPOSE STONE AS HEAD OF FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Senator Stone, photographed shortly after congress adjourned on March 4.

United States senators at Washington report that the "folks back home" are demanding that a way be found to depose Senator William J. Stone of Missouri as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. Stone and La Follette were the leaders of the "little group of wilful men" who killed the armed neutrality bill and, according to President Wilson, "rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

Court Upholds Wife's Right to Pick Hubby's Pockets at Night

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

New York, March 8.—A wife whose husband withholds a sufficient allowance on pay day, has a perfect right, according to a decision by Magistrate Cornell of the New York court of domestic relations to go through his trousers pockets when he is asleep.

Mrs. Samuel Kell testified in court that her husband's weekly wage was $15, but that for nine years he has given her but $4 to $5 a week to run the house and care for their two children. Last Friday night, she said, she took $17 from her husband's trouser pocket while he slept.

Then Kell sewed up his pockets and took his trousers to bed with him, his wife testified, and in consequence she had him summoned to court.

CLOTURE RULE IS APPROVED BY BOTH SENATE AND HOUSE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Washington, March 8.—The cloture amendment to the senate rules, approved by both Democratic and Republican caucuses, was taken up by the senate today under unanimous consent.

Senator Sherman, one of the two Republicans who voted against the rule in the party caucus yesterday, read a portion of President Wilson's statement on the failure of the armed neutrality bill, saying that it would be useless to call a special session of congress now to pass the bill, as, unless the senate rules were changed, a filibuster could be successfully maintained against it.

"The president," said Senator Sherman, "intentionally seeks to convey to the country the impression that only by a change in the senate rules can the neutrality bill be passed at a special session of congress. That is not practically true, however, theoretically it may be sought to make it appear true."

Senator Sherman added that a portion of the truth was deliberately omitted from the president's statement.

"I intend to support the armed neutrality bill," he added, "but I do object to making a few senators the object of the president's wrath in a statement sent out to the general public."

The concession of legislative business was not referred to in the president's statement. Senator Sherman said, and there was no question in his mind that the bill could be passed within thirty days if the president should call an extra session.

Senator Sherman said he opposed the cloture rule because it would be only a question of time if the one proposed is adopted, until the power of two-thirds to force cloture would be changed so it may be forced by a majority vote. He read extracts from President Wilson's writings declaring that unlimited debate in the senate was of great importance to its usefulness as a legislative body.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION VICTIM.

Cincinnati, March 8.—Another victim of the fifth of the explosion at the Ford Assembling Plant, Lincoln Avenue, Avondale, died at the Bethesda hospital early today. He was Edward Scifield, 1844 Sherman avenue Norwood. He died of burns received in the explosion.

Owing to the necessity of swearing in a new jury the entire evidence that was introduced by the prosecution had to be repeated and this repetition is taking place today. The remaining two died from fractured skulls.

MOST OF THEM ENGAGED IN BELGIAN RELIEF WORK

No Word From Yarrowdale Prisoners Who Were to Be Released Today

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Washington, March 8.—Americans in Belgium are no longer detained in any sense by the German military authorities, according to a final report received at the state department today from Minister Brand Whitlock at Brussels.

The dispatch stated that subordinate officials had prevented Americans from leaving immediately after the severance of relations, for lack of orders whether to hold them or not.

The difficulty has all been straightened out, Mr. Whitlock reported and Americans are free to come and go as before the severance in relations. Apart from the forty Belgian relief workers very few other Americans are in Belgium.

Mr. Whitlock status still remains indefinite. Germany refused to recognize his diplomatic position as minister but authorized him with other Americans to remain in charge of the Belgian relief work. As practically all of Belgium is in the military possession of Germany and her capital has been moved to Havre, France, officials here see only two alternatives, to admit he is no longer clothed with diplomatic authority or to send him to Havre as the fully accredited minister to Belgium.

Word is anxiously awaited here as to the relief of the seventy American sailors taken into Germany over months ago as prisoners of war on the Yarrowdale. Their release was promised by Germany for today when an alleged quarantine against an illness contracted by a British seaman confined with them was to once get it over with.

More than a hundred members of the house of representatives from the middle and far west are still in Washington waiting, announcement by the President as to whether he expects to call an extra session of congress soon. They fear that if they start for home they may be intercepted on the way by an express train and have to return immediately.

GIRL CLERK GETS LEGACY FOR KIND ACT TO AGED LADY

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Paterson, N. J., March 8.—For an act of courtesy to an elderly woman, Miss Rose Schampanier, a department store clerk, has been notified that she will receive $38,000 on her twenty-fifth birthday, three years hence. Meanwhile, she will be paid interest every year on her birthday. It is stipulated only that she shall not marry until she is 25.

Miss Schampanier was at Revere Beach near Boston, last summer, when she saw Mrs. Catherine Ward of Grand Rapids, Mich., fall in the sand. The young woman picked up the older, and an acquaintance developed. Mrs. Ward died recently, and her will contained the bequest to the Paterson girl.

AMERICAN FREIGHT STEAMER READY TO SAIL WITHOUT GUNS

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

New York, March 8.—If she can get a crew the 14,000 ton freighter Manchuria of the Atlantic Transport Line will sail for London today unarmed. The Manchuria is the first vessel under the American flag to load mails for a prohibited port since the American line cancelled sailings on Feb. 2.

The crew struck yesterday for a 75 per cent war bonus. The company had already granted fifty per cent, and declined to give any more on the ground that a further increase would be unfair to the men who had sailed two weeks ago on the Mongolia, satisfied with a fifty per cent bonus.

Two guns, one forward on the forecastle head and the other aft, were mounted on French line passenger steamship Rocheambault which arrived here today from Bordeaux.

The gun forward was a rapid fire naval piece, and that aft was the usual four inch gun which has been on French ships for several months. The Rocheambault is the first ship to arrive here equipped with guns forward and aft since the war began.

JUROR'S ILLNESS DELAYING TRIAL OF POISON PLOTS

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

London, March 8.—The illness of a juror has retarded the progress of the case against Mrs. Alice Sheldon, her two daughters, Miss Ann Sheldon and Mrs. Alfred Mason, and Mrs. Mason's husband, who are on trial before Justice Low in the Old Bailey, charged with conspiracy to murder Premier Lloyd-George and Arthur Henderson, member of the war council.

The trial was suspended when the defense called an expert witness to testify to the mental condition of the accused. The defense claimed that the accused was not responsible for her actions due to her mental condition.

The trial was adjourned until March 12, when the defense will present its case. The defense claims that the accused is not guilty of the crime charged.

STORK APPEARS AS HUSBAND IS TAKEN FOR POSTAL FRAUD

A few hours after her husband had been taken to Zanesville on a charge of attempting to defraud the mails, Mrs. Earl Harvey gave birth to a boy baby at her home 41 Ninth street, and it is thought the shock of the arrest caused the child's birth prematurely. The mother and little one however are getting along finely. Under the name of Earl Harvey, the man has been managing the B. & O. restaurant, but it is alleged he was getting mail at the local office addressed to Ralph Gibbons. Yesterday United States Marshal E. M. Wright came to Newark with a warrant for the arrest of Harold Samuel Fulmer, who he had reason to believe, was Harvey alias Gibbons.

Wright waited around the post office several hours to land his quarry but he did not appear, so he left for Chief Sheridan's office. A few minutes afterward Harvey appeared and was immediately telephoned to the Chief's office just as the Marshal came in. Harvey and his wife were followed to keep track of them. Chief Sheridan, with officers Swinehart, Donnelley and Wright went over to the post office in the patrol wagon and were motioned northward. Near the Auditorium the arrest was made.

The alleged crime was committed in New York state and Harvey may fight extradition.

SPAIN PLANS BETTER FOOD DISTRIBUTION TO SAVE RESOURCES

Madrid, Via Paris, March 8.—The cabinet is studying measures to insure the better distribution of food-stuffs throughout the country. Every disposition will be made to enable Spain to live on its own resources and restrictions will be imposed on all articles not absolutely essential to the life of the country.

Rain and snow storms are sweeping the entire peninsula. Trains are stopped and communication interrupted. The express train from Irun, which ought to have arrived in Madrid at 9:00 o'clock last night, has not been heard from. She was last reported leaving Avilla, 53 miles northwest of Madrid, far behind schedule.

JAPANESE BLITHELY SWEEP GERMAN TRADERS FROM PACIFIC; SHIPPING EXPERT SAYS NIPPON WILL BE BRITAIN OF ORIENT

"JAPS ARE JUMPING INTO GERMANS' TRADE SHOES."—C. E. Benjamin.

"Japan is making a strong bid to become the Britain of the Pacific and to dominate the Orient. The war has given Nippon her long-desired and eagerly-awaited opportunity to cut deeply into the trade formerly held by Europeans. Japan's direct attack was made against Germany and so successful have the Japanese been that traders under the flag of the Fatherland have been swept from the Pacific."

This interesting sidelight on the war is given by C. E. Benjamin, general passenger agent of the trans-Pacific end of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, who has just returned to Montreal from a four months' trip to the far east. As one of the directing heads of the White Expresses—including the Empress of Russia and Empress of Asia, the fastest boats on the Pacific—operating from Vancouver, B. C., to Manila and oriental points, Mr. Benjamin is regarded as an authority on shipping.

"Prosperity has been rising like a flood tide in Japan. The Mikado's government is sympathetic toward the shipping interests of his empire and by subsidies is doing all in his power to encourage their growth. Even Great Britain, the acknowledged carrier of the world, will be put into second place on the Pacific by Japan and permanently so if the present pace keeps up."

"Russia is buying everything from Japan. For the month of August the Pacific during the next five years, the Orient will, in truth, belong to Japan."

South America during the first eight months of 1916 nearly doubled those of the same period for 1915.

"Japanese exports to China in 1916 amounted to $88,000,000 more than those from the United States to the Celestials, and the United States in 1916 boasted of an export increase of more than $7,000,000 over 1915."

"Japanese small traders and traveling merchants are swarming over China, little regarding Chinese regulations. They come and go as they will."

"It is my opinion that unless an unprecedent impetus is given to British and American shipping on Japan. For the month of August the Pacific during the next five years, the Orient will, in truth, belong to Japan."

GALLIPOLI FORCE WAS INADEQUATE PROBERS REPORT

the navy being held to be the only force available.

"Political arguments which were adduced to the war council in favor of a prompt and effective action if such were practicable, were valid and of the highest importance but the practicability of whatever action was proposed was of equal importance. Mr. Churchill appears to have advocated an attack by ships alone before the war council, on a certain amount of half-hearted and hesitating expert opinions which favored a tentative or progressive scheme beginning with an attack upon the outer forts. This attack, if successful, was to be followed by further operations against the main defenses of the Narrows. There does not appear to have been direct support or direct opposition from the responsible naval and military advisers. Lord Fisher and Sir James Wolfe Murray, as to the practicability of carrying on the operations as approved by the war council, viz, to bombard or take the Gallipoli peninsula with Constantinople as the objective."

"The first sea lord and Sir Arthur Wilson, who was the only naval adviser present at the war council, expressed no dissent. Lord Kitchener, who occupied a commanding position at the time the decision was taken, was in favor of the project. Both Lord Fisher and Sir Arthur Wilson would have preferred a joint naval and military attack but they did not express to the war council, and were not asked to express any opinion on the subject and offered no objection to naval operations, as they considered them experimental and such as could be discontinued if the first results obtained were not satisfactory. The commissioners think that there was an obligation, first on the first lord, secondly on the prime minister, thirdly on one other member of the war council, to see that the views of the naval advisers were clearly put before the council and that the naval advisers should have expressed their views to the council, whether asked or not, if they considered the project which the council was about to adopt was impracticable from a naval point of view.

"Looking at the position which existed on Jan. 13, 1915, the commissioners do not think the war council was justified in coming to the decision without much fuller investigation of the proposition which had been suggested to them. The commissioner held that the possibility of making a surprise amphibious attack on Gallipoli offered such great military and political advantage that it was mistaken and ill-advised to sacrifice this possibility by deciding to undertake a purely naval attack which from its nature could not obtain completely the object set out in the terms of the decision."

"The decision taken on the 16th to mass troops in the neighborhood of the Dardanelles marked a very critical stage of the whole operation. It ought to have been clear that when this was once done, even if troops were not actually landed, it would be apparent to the world that a serious attack was intended and a withdrawal could no longer be effected without running serious risk of loss of prestige. At that moment, time was all important, no compromise was possible between making an immediate and vigorous effort to ensure success at the Dardanelles by joint naval and military occupation, and falling back on the original intention of desisting from a naval attack if the experience gained during the bombardment were unsatisfactory.

"On Feb. 20, Lord Kitchener decided that the twenty-ninth division, part of the troops which by the decision of Feb. 16, were to be sent to the east, should not be sent at that time and Colonel Fitzgerald instructed the director of the naval transport that transports for that division and the rest of the expeditionary force would not be required. This was done without informing the first lord, and the dispatch of troops was thus delayed three weeks. This delay greatly compromised the probability of success of the original attack by land forces and materially increased the difficulties encountered in the final attack some months later."

"We consider that in view of the opinions expressed by the naval and military authorities on the spot the decision to abandon the naval attack after the bombardment of March 18 was inevitable. There was no meeting of the war council between March 19 and May 14. Meanwhile important land operations were undertaken. We think that before such operations were commenced the war council should have carefully reconsidered the whole position. In our opinion the prime minister ought to have summoned a meeting of the war council for that purpose and if not summoned, other members of the war council should have requested for such a meeting. We consider that the responsibility of those members of the cabinet who did not attend the meetings of the war council was limited to the fact that they delegated their authority to their colleagues who attended those meetings."

"We are of the opinion that Lord Kitchener did not sufficiently avail himself of the result that more staff, with the result that more work was undertaken by him than was possible for one man to do, and confusion and want of efficiency resulted."

"We are unable to concur in the report set forth by Lord Fisher that it was his duty, if he differed from the chief of his department, to maintain silence of the council or to resign. We think that the adoption of such principle generally would impair the efficiency of public service."

"Lord Kitchener," he continued, "took Lord Fisher aside and urged him that his duty to the country was to continue in office. Lord Fisher reluctantly yielded to Lord Kitchener's entreaty and resumed his seat."

"We are unable to concur in the report set forth by Lord Fisher that it was his duty, if he differed from the chief of his department, to maintain silence of the council or to resign."

"We think that although the main object was not attained certain important political advantages, upon the nature of which we have already

A LAMB AND A PUSSY.

Of course you know about Mary's lamb, whose fleece was white as snow.

Well, I could not be sure how white this lamb's fleece was. You see, it lived in a big public park where there were a great many other animals, and the men who take care of them have a heap to do.

The lamb I am going to tell you about was early left a little orphan lambing, and one of the kind hearted keepers took it out of the field with the other lambs and sheep and brought it up himself.

He had a pet kitten, and soon the pet lamb and the pet kitten became great friends, playing together and cuddling close to one another for warmth when they took a nap. It was very cute to see them.

By and by Kittle became old enough to go off by herself, while Lambie could not get out of the little yard in which he was kept.

He would watch anxiously until his little friend came back and as soon as he saw her would jump about and "ba-a-a" with delight. If pussy was too tired they would have a game of tag before she stretched out to rest after her wanderings or he would go over to the plate where her food had been placed and join her at the meal. Lambie would eat liver and fish and seemed to enjoy it. One day when catnip was given to Kitty he licked it up with great seeming relish.

Everything that the cat did the lamb tried to do. It took some time for him to learn that he was wasting time in trying to climb a tree.

When pussy took to the business of mouse and rat catching the lamb joined her in watching the mouse holes and, though never able to capture anything, seemed pleased when his friend did.

Having seen the cat trying to catch birds, the lamb amused all who saw him trying to capture sparrow. The lamb would crouch close to the ground and creep closer and closer to the bird, which always darted away just as he was ready to pounce down upon it.

The keeper who has brought up the two animals together and who tells the story of the remarkable lamb insists that it arches its back when angry, just like its pussycat friend.

What will happen to the lamb when it is too old to be a pet and has to go back into the field with the staid and quiet sheep who live there? No doubt the other sheep will not know what to make of it and its queer pussycat ways.

Driving the Cows to Pasture.

The cows are the little wooden creatures that come in children's barnyard sets. These are allotted to each player in turn, and a small stick given him to drive with.

The cows are driven across the center of the room by little taps with the stick and not by a steady push. If one of the cows fall the driver is discharged and another takes his place.

The object is to see who can reach the pasture in the shortest time without any accident on the road.

NEWEST MILLINERY.

Some Distinctive Points About Spring Hats.

Following the lead established during the winter, many of the new shapes are repetitions or adaptations of models built on Turkish lines in fez effect or on the contour of the Russian turban. Then there are hats that for want of a better name are termed Egyptian. Usually they have a veil accessory, which forms the chief trimming.

The large hats maintain sailor lines. Some of them have a rolled brim, which may turn backward from the face or from one side. There are those, too, which are turned up at the back somewhat after the manner of the poke. The so called Breton sailor shows the brim of irregular width, somewhat narrower in front and back than at the sides, and the brim may be slightly bent up almost anywhere it proves becoming or suits the fancy of the possessor.

One must not forget mention of the dressy hats which are named for Marie Antoinette. For the last four or five years it has become the custom of foreign modistes to bring out a hat flat in shape and mounted on a bandeau which fits the hat itself forward on the face and presents most of the trimming under the brim at the back.

Sometimes this type of hat has the appellation "shepherdess," or it may be termed "sixteenth century" or "Watteau." No matter what the official title, the hat in its modern representation is suited only to the few, and those few must take heed to wear it only on special occasions with the lingerie frock or the dainty gown of chiffon or summer silk.

Other than the Japanese and Chinese motifs there are trimmings of wooden beads colored in Indian effects and laid on in rows about the crown of the hat. It is very likely that a lot of the Indian beads will reproduce the colors and designs of the Aztec tribes. Indeed, not a few of the patterns suggest the totem poles of the American aborigines. All this adds to the gaiety of millinery models as well as a historic interest if one is inclined that way.

The mushroom shape varies the monotony of the straight brim sailor. It is bit smarter and less tailored in its suggestion. It is to be had in colored leghorn, sometimes combined with georgette, crepe, satin or taffeta. There are also mushroom hats entirely of satin, with the exception of the band, which is generally of straw.

Paisley Holds Its Own For All Spring Styles.

Russian shapes still dominate the new outlines. This tall crown of blue milan straw is tailored with Paisley

HOUSES FOR THE WORKING PEOPLE.

One of the big problems of modern high cost living is the providing of comfortable homes for working people. Many of the big industries have had to take this up. They find that if mechanics can't find comfortable homes they won't live and work in a place.

The Youngstown, Ohio, Sheet and Tube company is the latest to try this out, announcing a plan for building a million dollars worth of small homes for operatives. In many places the impossibility of finding small and comfortable homes for rent prevents communities from growing. Yet at present prices of building materials and labor, the capitalist says there is no money in erecting houses.

No doubt farmers would find it easier to get help if they would provide little homes to rent to their laborers. Many farmers who have made money on the present scale of prices would do better to invest their money in this way near home, than to buy securities of property located many miles away about which they know nothing.

Probably the building of houses like other things will have to be done on a bigger scale. Where a builder undertakes one house at a time, the cost mounts up. If he can put up a group at a time, the proportionate cost of each must be decreased. Orders for a big lot of materials somewhat uniform in character should secure lower prices. There should be a reduction in the relative costs of supervision.

The worst of building a lot of houses at a time is that they give a neighborhood an air of deadly uniformity. Builders will find that their houses will rent better and sell better, if given some individuality and artistic character. A little more money to an architect to make houses look like comfortable and pretty homes, means an easier sale.

FINDING HELP.

From many employing centers the cry goes up for help. And this is the off time of year, before the demand from the farms and construction and highway jobs has set in. What will happen when the farmers begin to cry for harvest hands?

In the newspapers it is a normal thing for "Situations Wanted" ads to outnumber the "Help Wanted." Probably the proportion would be the other way now. In one metropolitan newspaper the other day, it was noted that there were 3 1-2 columns of "Help wanted" notices, and only one-half a column of "Situations Wanted."

Many a manufacturer feels at his wit's end, in a time like this, to get the needed help, to turn out his orders. Of course the only thing to do is to advertise. There are invariably plenty of men who are looking for better jobs. When a man accepts a better opportunity in that way, his former employer of course becomes the goat, and there is nothing for him in his turn but to try advertising and attract some from a still lower position. It is a time when working people can advance rapidly, and when new openings are constantly showing themselves.

The newspaper is a great employment bureau. If it were not for the services of the "Help Wanted" column, industry would be prostrated in a time like this.

No able bodied man has any excuse for not working today. Also it is a great chance for women to break into a new line of industry. Many unskilled laborers are getting chances to try out work that would

ARE YOU EDUCATED?

A list of twenty questions appeared in one of the magazines recently and the statement was made that a well educated person should be able to answer correctly not less than 16 of them.

Here they are: 1. Who is vice president of the United States? 2. Who is United States treasurer? 3. Who is conductor of the New York Symphony orchestra? 4. Who is leader of Tammany hall? 5. Who is congressman from this district? 6. Who is Hugo Munsterberg? 7. Who was Ali Baba? 8. What is the Pentateuch? 9. Who was Christopher Wren? 10. What is a seismograph? (Now they're beginning to get hard!) 11. What is a clevis? 12. How many supreme court justices are there? 13. Where is the "Land of the Windmills"? 14. Who wrote "The child is father of the man?" 15. Who wrote "The groves were God's first temples?" 16. Who wrote "Once more dear friend to the breach"? Who is Mummers? 18. Who is president of the Lake Shore railroad? 10. What is the fourth city in size in the United States? 20. What is a preposition? The Columbus Dispatch in printing these questions concludes thus: Now be ashamed of yourself for being "uneducated."

The Columbus Citizen refers to the senator from Wisconsin as "Von LaFollette." Which isn't bad!

GET RID OF HUMORS

AND AVOID DISEASE

Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that effect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions. They affect all the organs and functions, membranes and tissues, and are directly responsible for the readiness with which some people contract disease.

For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. It is distinguished for its thoroughness in purifying the blood, which it enriches and invigorates. No other medicine acts like it, for no other medicine is like it.

COAL PRICES FORCED UP.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)

A shocking case of conscienceless gouging of the public is charged by the New York grand jury that has been delving into the causes of high prices of food and fuel in two indictments returned Tuesday. The marketing of some 25,000,000 tons annually of West Virginia coal is involved, and 180 corporations and individuals are accused of violating the Sherman anti-trust law by combining to suppress competition, fixing prices and pooling the proceeds of operations. One instance is cited of an agreement to fix the price of Pocahontas and New River coal, arbitrarily raising the price from $1.25 to $3 a ton, whereby the public was mulcted to the tune of approximately $38,000,000. That is what is alleged. The persons accused squeezed out of consumers, but the result of the alleged unlawful operation was that others also advanced prices to such an extent that "spot" coal was put at $13 a ton.

The present grand jury report deals with only one commodity and with only a small portion of a year's output of that. If there are other combinations similar to the one alleged it is not hard to explain the enormous advances that have been made in fuel prices in the last couple of years. And if there were no other combinations the great rise in coal and food prices is made comprehensible by the grand jury disclosures. Let one powerful group raise prices and conditions being favorable, other operators, not only in that particular commodity but in all others, will try their hand at it and be successful. Once the ascent begins there will be no difficulty in keeping up the movement. Success in one line makes success in all others. The public accepts what is told about necessity. Until the greed of the price fixers causes them to overreach they will meet with little opposition. The original offenders may be satisfied with comparatively small increases, but their success prompts others to continue the upward movement until the burden upon the public becomes too great to bear. That is what happened in the last two years.

The New York indictments do not settle anything, but if they are followed up and investigations in other directions are proceeded with punishments may be inflicted that will discourage similar practices for some time to come.

BOARDING PRISONERS.

(Ohio State Journal.)

In Ohio, the average cost of boarding prisoners is 67 cents a day. In doing the same thing in New York the cost is 17 1-2 cents a day; in Philadelphia, 15 cents; in Chicago, 20 cents, and yet there is a bill in the Ohio legislature making 75 cents the legal rate. What a disgrace it would be to vote for such a bill, in view of the cost elsewhere! And especially in these days, when the food tests show that men can live happily and healthily on 25 to 30 cents a day. The State Journal has participated in a food test, participated in by eight persons, and it cost only $1.50 a person for the six days, and yet the bill in the legislature would make that $1.50 last only two days. Such extravagance would amount to a holdup. It would pay the state to employ Miss Payne, at a few thousand a year, to plan bills of fare for the prisons and provide directions of how the various viands should be prepared. The prisoners would live better than they do at half the cost.

STRAIGHT AMERICAN.

(New York Evening Sun.)

Not the least danger which the American people face today is the prospect of a new House of Representatives obsessed with a partisan right for organization when all its energies should be bent to the defense of the country.

That the national legislative body should remain in continuous session at such a time of peril as the present is transparently necessary. But it will be the particular duty of the straight Americans in the new House when it is called in special session, forthwith to choose a Speaker without regard to party lines for the sake of the nation's welfare.

If the Ship of State is to ride safely through the present storm no Mann or Kitchen must be permitted to harass the helmsman or tamper with the machinery. And Stone and his assistants in the Senate must be restrained from substituting the white flag for the Stars and Stripes at the masthead at every opportunity.

SUPPLY OF LAMP-POSTS.

(Manchester Guardian.)

Mr. J. C. Welliver, the London manager of the New York Sun, tells me the following story which is popular in American quarters here:

Some months ago Mr. Gerard was discussing with the then Foreign Minister, von Jagow, the possibility of a severance of diplomatic relations. "But your government realizes the gravity of such a step, realizes that hostilities would almost surely follow," von Jagow said.

"Perfectly appreciates all that," rejoined Mr. Gerard calmly. "And you must realize also that America is in poor form to meet the issue of war should it be presented," continued the foreign minister.

"You must realize that there are some 200,000 German army reservists in the United States." "We have heard reports of that kind," replied the ambassador. "Even that there are 32,000 of them in and about New York city," replied Mr. Gerard, "and I may add that the last enumeration of lamp-posts in New York city indicates that there are 32,000 of them, etc."

Some people are born great. Others grate upon us.—Columbus Jester.

JAPAN IN THE FUTURE.

(Philadelphia Inquirer.)

That we shall sooner or later have trouble with the Japanese is beyond a reasonable doubt. They are a proud and sensitive people who have been greatly puffed up by their recent rise in the world. They consider themselves equal to any other nation and superior to most, and they are determined to insist in every respect on an equality of treatment.

Within the past two weeks we have been as often told by representatives of the Japanese government that Japan would never go to war with the United States except upon an issue involving its national honor and it has been explained that discrimination in the matter of immigration and land ownership constituted such an issue. This statement admits of only one implication. It can only mean that Japan will go to war with us unless we place her nationally on precisely the same footing as others to whom the widest privileges are granted, and as that is something which we are resolved not to do, we know what to expect and should be prepared for it. When Japan severs its connection with Great Britain, as it may be expected to do after a while, it will be free to form new alliances, and it would be foolish to ignore or to underestimate the potentialities of this prospect.

Spirit of the Press

Substitute Wanted.
With all their ingenuity exercised to the utmost, perhaps those German chemists will eventually discover a substitute for war.—Washington Post.

Give Bill a Square Deal.

The Terrell bill to permit Christian Science practitioners to charge for their services ought to have a square deal. It ought not to be smothered in committee by a hostile membership; it should, on the other hand, be reported out so that all members of the house may express their judgment of it. That would be justice to the bill and to the members alike.

President's Internationalism.

President Wilson's statement of what this nation stands for whether in peace or war, is impressive, and ought to acquit him in the mind of every American of any sinister motive with regard to the war or the possible entry of the United States into the conflict. * * * —Columbus Dispatch.

Girding for the Knockout.

To say that all Europe is heartily tired of war is to utter a truism. To say that any of the leading belligerents is a "quitter" in spirit at this time is to say something that is not borne out by the vast scope of war plans for the future. Food may be growing scarce, but there seems to be no end to the money that is available for war purposes. In all the halls of state on either side it is anticipated that the great decision is to come this year or to be unmistakably foreshadowed, but there also is agreement that before it comes the expenditures of human lives and of war materials will dwarf all that have gone before. —Minneapolis Tribune.

Austria Playing for Time.

Austria's reply to President Wilson's inquiry as to the dual monarchy's adhesion to the German submarine proclamation furnishes little basis for expectation that diplomatic relations will long continue between Washington and Vienna. Austria is playing for time.

The Grade Crossing.

There have been always, and always there will be, delinquent or erring employees who will permit grade crossing horrors to occur, but the crossing itself, a removable physical danger, an immutable menace as long as it is not removed, is the fault of a public which has not sought and found a means of abolishing it.—Louisville Courier Journal.

"Missing" Girls.

There are a number of women just as there are a number of men who wish to walk from their immediate stagnant circle into the very large world of many currents and many adventures. Perhaps the growing independence of women has something to do with this movement. If statistics are available we should not be surprised if many a "lady tramp" were practicing stenography and other clerical vocations in the business world. As soon as many women have become sufficiently equipped to be self-supporting they have cast from the old moorings and have sailed the social seas with all the independence of the bachelormaid. A room, flower-boxes, popular fiction, attendance upon the legitimate and moving theaters in the company of other women, no family ties, no dull household routine—perhaps this kind of life is creating a class of women with which our social system will be forced to reckon, and which will rob the "missing" of the glamour of romance, but give them a position of far greater respectability.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

The Railroad Case.

The railroads have been anxious to improve their terminal facilities, but the character of governmental regulation now in force has operated to thwart these desires. With greater borrowing power, through legislation that would make investment in railroad securities profitable, there would have been the development of the railroads to meet the maximum demands of the nation. This would have called for the expenditure of many millions of dollars, through which both the railroads and the public would have been the beneficiaries, while the nation would have been in a better state of defense, so far as the speedy mobilization of men, munitions and supplies is concerned, than it is now.—Washington Post.

The Mooney bill to reorganize the present legislature looks like a roster of the House of Representatives in size. It contains the names of 127 lobbyists or one for each of the representatives. The railroad interests have the largest lobby. Although the session now is about ready to adjourn, the printed list of lobbyists in the state capital board, the Mooney bill to reorganize the military laws of the state and make them conform to the national defense act, the Holl bill reorganizing the state sky department and the automatic tire door bill, a labor measure.

If these bills go on the calendar tomorrow they will probably come to a vote Saturday.

Among the important bills ready to be reported out and placed on the calendar are the Terrell Christian Science bill, permitting Christian Scientists to practice their faith without regulation by the state medical board, the Mooney bill to reorganize the military laws of the state and make them conform to the national defense act, the Holl bill reorganizing the state sky department and the automatic tire door bill, a labor measure.

The Junior corn growing contest, formerly conducted under the state board of agriculture has been transferred to the extension department of Ohio State university but will remain in charge of J. R. Clarke of Clark county, director.

Society

other, and to advance all their interests.

The men were invited to bring their wives, and each one an additional guest, who would probably become a member of the class.

The classes were well represented and a goodly number of guests were present. Eight young ladies of the church waited table.

After the banquet, helpful addresses were given. Mrs. W. H. Swartz, teacher of the Bible class, presided.

Mrs. Swartz made introductory remarks, stating the purpose of the gathering and introduced A. S. Mitchell, president of Newark township Sunday School Association, who gave a very helpful address on "The Benefits of Organization."

The superintendent of the Sunday school, S. S. Brown, spoke on "His Twenty Years' Experience as Superintendent of Sunday School."

Rev. W. H. Swartz, teacher of the Men's Bible class, spoke on "Spiritual Equipment."

Geo. Shipp, president of the Men's class, made the closing address, dwelling on practical personal work, faithful attendance and experimental knowledge of the word.

It was decided to continue the study of last year's topic, Shakespeare and Current Topics and the meeting next week will be at the home of Mrs. Fred Sites in East Locust street.

Miss Edith Mason entertained the members of the U. K. club at her home in Conrad Court on Tuesday evening. A short business session was followed by a social hour during which three new members were initiated into the society. Delicious refreshments were served the following guests: Misses Gladys Beall, Loraine Chenoweth, Rachel McLaughlin, Margaret Mullenix, Mabel Mason, Bernice Mullenix, Hilda Schmitt, Lucille Compton and Georgia Hatfield.

On Wednesday afternoon the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the East Main Street U. B. church were entertained by the wife of the pastor, Mrs. A. B. Cox. The hours were devoted to the society's work, when as a surprise out of compliment to the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Cox, the president, Mrs. E. F. Johnson presented Mrs. Cox with a Bible and delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orr entertained the members and family of the Good Will society at their home on Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for fifty, the table being decorated with pink and white carnations and a delicious four-course supper was served the following:

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter and daughter Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown and son Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hazlett, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morrison and son Forest, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hazlett, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hanlin and daughter Eula and son Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Parr and sons Glen and David, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Courson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hazlett of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Courson and sons Charles and Lawrence, Mrs. Lizzie Hoskins, Mrs. Ross Pipes of Mt. Vernon, Mrs. Addie Martin of Newark, Misses Grace Walters, Ruth Dushimer, May Stevens, Ethel Vermillion, Alice Osburn, Lena Dushimer, Lena Hazlett of Newark, Messrs. Ray Jeffress, Earl Vermillion, Arastus Crooks.

The evening was spent in music, recitations and a guessing contest, for which Ed Brown received the prize.

The Social Sewing club of Loudon street, Granville, held the semi-monthly social and business meeting at the home of Miss Lucy Smith. The following members were present: Mesdames John Beabout, Ora Warner, Dalton Tatham, Myrtle Spellman, W. H. Roffey, David McCullough, Fred Moore, James Bonnette, W. B. Butt, Wm. Wingert, C. Cline, Earl Lake, W. M. Lake, S. C. Culison, John Hammond, Mrs. Warner, Vora Warner, Walter Mowery, Misses Esther Warner, Bernice Butt and Alma Bonnette. After the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Myrtle Spellman, March 8th.

The Sunshine Class of the East Main Street M. E. church, known as Cheerful Givers, numbering 96 members, gave a banquet to the Men's Progressive Bible class, Tuesday evening, in the church parlor.

The banquet was given to aid the Men's Bible class in increasing its membership, and also to bring the classes into closer touch with each other.

Milady's Boudoir

Eyebrows and Eyelids.

Many women would like to have the narrow penciled eyebrows, and as few brows grow naturally straight, this line will have to be secured by pulling out any of the hairs that grow beyond the line described. This may be done without harm by the use of tweezers.

The application of red vaseline or castor oil is wonderfully beneficial in promoting a quick growth. In applying either of these, particular care should be taken that the oil does not get into the eyes because it would irritate and inflame them. The best way to apply the oil is by using a small camel's hair brush and brushing gently, but firmly. Using the first and third fingers to gently pull the lashes will help too, because it strengthens the roots.

We have all seen transparent eyelids with the delicate blue veins barely visible through the fine skin, and they are so much more pleasing than red, heavy lids, swollen and coarse looking. To improve such eyelids, there is nothing quite so beneficial as a gentle massage with a good face cream. This will improve the texture of the skin. Keep it in a soft healing condition and will also eliminate any wrinkles that may have formed.

With constant application of these few suggestions one is sure to see a marked improvement inside of a month. It might be well to state that the wise woman with beautiful eyes would do well to study one of the secrets of the well dressed woman.

Keep Your Hair and Scalp Clean

If you want a good healthy growth of hair care should be used in keeping the scalp clean, free of dirt, dust and dandruff. Do not use cheap soaps or shampoos that contain too much alkali as they are liable to dry the scalp and make the hair too brittle. For steady use the best thing is kreamol, a liquid which you can secure at almost any drug store. It is very cheap as a four ounce bottle will be sufficient to last a family for several months.

To cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly, simply moisten the hair with water and rub in the kreamol. One or two teaspoonsfull will make a rich, creamy lather and it is very easily rinsed. The hair dries quickly and evenly and leaves it fine, bright, fluffy and easy to care for.—Adv.

Kreamol is sold at Evans' Drug Store (Warden Hotel Block), Newark, Ohio, and Ulman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio.

FINE HAND OF 'ZIM' SEEN IN SCHEME OF GERMANY'S AGENTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, March 8.—Documentary evidence purporting to show that Dr. Chandre Chakraberty, a Hindu, and Ernest Sekunna, a German scientist, arrested here in connection with an alleged plot to foment revolution in India, had been in communication with the German foreign office, Berlin, and that their plans had the approval of Dr. Alfred Zimmermann with recommendation that the financial aid be given certain intrigues in this country, will be laid before the federal grand jury, it was learned from government officials, when the jury resumed today its investigation into German plots.

Among the papers seized by the police in the home of Dr. Chakraberty, it is alleged, is a document bearing the address, 75 Wilhelmstrasse, Berlin, the office of the foreign secretary. This evidence is considered highly important by the federal authorities. In addition to these papers, others that were seized in the Wall street office of Wolf Von Igel, who accompanied Count Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador back to Germany, will be presented to the grand jury, it was said, as evidence of a connecting link in the general plot against Great Britain. Federal officials here declare they have no evidence thus far to indicate the German-Hindu plot was aimed at the United States.

The jury investigating the plot recently indicted Albert A. Sander and Karl Wunnenberg, officials of the Central Power War Film Exchange in this city for conspiracy to obtain British war secrets for the German government. The bail bonds furnished Dr. Chakraberty and Sekunna by the National Surety Company were withdrawn by the company together with the explanation that it had concluded not to furnish bail for persons regarded as un-American or hostile to the United States.

The jury had before it all the papers which were confiscated by the government when Wolf Von Igel was indicted for an attempt to blow up the Welland canal. Von Igel was permitted to sail with Count Von Bernstorff on the Frederick VIII.

The federal authorities say that the names of Sekunna and Chakraberty appear frequently in these papers and that the latter a year ago made a trip to Germany and brought back a letter from Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German foreign minister, addressed to Von Igel.

The federal district attorney and his assistants have been somewhat mystified by many references in the Von Igel papers to "Omin" a nerve medicine which Dr. Chakraberty says he compounded and sold in the Orient.

They are trying to find also the reasons behind the purchase by Sekunna of a 200-acre tract in the hills of Fishkill, just the Hudson river.

The land occupies an isolated situation about 1,300 feet high. Sekunna, it has just been learned bought it only a few days ago.

Pig iron in every section of the country is showing undoubted tendencies toward further price advances. In the south, white production has been maintained fairly steadily yet demand has overtaken it.

Sales have been made recently around $25 for No. 2 foundry, yet most furnaces interests have withdrawn from the market and others are asking $30 Birmingham for last half year delivery.

Virginia furnaces in some instances are selling into early 1918, at slightly below today's quotation. Eastern Pennsylvania foundry iron sells freely at $35 furnace an eastern low phosphorus at as high as $35 furnace.

The production of coke and anthracite pig iron in February was 2,635,035 tons a decrease of 506,804 tons compared with January. Although February had three fewer working days than January yet this decrease likely is due to less favorable working conditions growing out of the adverse weather and car service difficulties.

Only one amendment will be offered to the congress for action this year—a rule stopping the additional charge made at any tournament for the all-events. The main topic of discussion among the delegates is the contest between Peoria and Cincinnati for the 1918 tournament. Both cities have furnished guarantees that they would finance the next meeting if it is awarded them.

The first team score that is expected to figure in the main award of prize money at the finish was made last night by the Centrals of Chicago, 2,693 placing them at the top of the five man events.

TREATY FOR PURCHASE OF ALASKA FROM RUSSIA MADE FIFTY YEARS AGO

Anniversary of Acquisition of Rich Territory Falls on March 30.—Former Governor Brady Gives Some Interesting Details Concerning Negotiations.

AT noon of March 30, 1917, fifty years will have passed since President Andrew Johnson sent a message to the United States senate announcing that a treaty had been negotiated with the czar of Russia for all his possessions on the North American continent, or Russian America, now Alaska, says former Governor John G. Brady of Alaska in the New York Sun.

This possession was purchased for the sum of $7,200,000 and has returned enormous profits to Uncle Sam in the shape of gold and other metal mines and almost inexhaustible coal deposits.

The story of the purchase relates that as one senator came into the cloakroom a little late he was accosted by a colleague, who said: "Well, what do you think Old Andy has sprung upon us this morning? It is the most unheard-of thing yet—the purchase of Russian America! I thought we would have a chance to whack him again, but this is something new."

Seward Central Figure.

There can be no doubt that this purchase was a surprise measure in statesmanship. William Henry Seward, secetary of state of the United States, was the eminent actor. Perhaps none of our statesmen before or since him stands out so prominently as a political prophet. This side of his character developed and became noted in the controversies over slavery before the civil war, so much so that some of his utterances became political shibboleths, as, for instance, "irrepressible conflict." No doubt he was in political parlance the "logical candidate" in the convention at Chicago in 1860. But Horace Greeley, who sat in the convention as a delegate from Oregon, with a combination of his opponents prevailed, and Seward was defeated. He did not sulk in his tent, but labored for the election of Lincoln.

As he stood upon the steps of the old statehouse in St. Paul and knowing that within the years of his own life he could look back to the time when there were but eighteen states in the Union, and standing now by the Father of Waters in the midst of the continent where were many more states awaiting organization into statehood, an afflatus possessed him and he delivered one of the most remarkable passages in our political annals. It was to the effect that our system of confederation of states would spread over the North American continent and that he believed he was standing not many miles away from the spot which is destined to become the capital of this mighty power. Then he said: "I now turn to the north-east and behold the Russian, the representative of the civilization at St. Petersburg, making his forts and harbors; but I can only say: 'Go on, Russian! Build up your forts and harbors. You are only doin' it for thy country, for the civilian and the U. S. State shall get you to the other side.'

Seward then returned to St. Paul in September of 1860, had in mind the Russian as his possession in the northeast of the continent, and he expressed his belief that it would in time become the possession of the United States and of the civilization which would spread over the northwest. A seed so potent would come to spring forth and bear fruit in the field of influences, were bound to grow. One and one-half centuries later, he dared and in as good humor as possible. A few years ago I visited Frederick W. Seward at his home, Monroe on the Hudson. He said that when Mr. Sumner was preparing his great speech to be delivered in executive session in favor of ratifying the treaty he discussed with the senator what name should be given to the purchase. The senator contended for Alaska as given in Cook, but Seward, knowing that his father preferred Alaska, urged that Alaska be not used, for the comic papers would seize such a form of the name as the foundation for a cartoon, of which there were many at the time.

Negotiations at Night.

The secretary was living in a large house near Lafayette square. The Russian minister, who felt much at home there, calling one evening rather late found Mr. Seward in a friendly game of cards with some members of his household. The minister imparted the information that he had had a dispatch from St. Petersburg and that he was authorized to negotiate. The secretary, turning at once from the table, said: "Why not tonight? Mr. Minister, if you get the Russian legation I'll get the state department!" Frederick, you notify Assistant Secretary Hunt, Mr. Chew, the clerk, and Senator Sumner. We will meet at the state department at 12 o'clock." The minister objected that his people were scattered at theater parties and other functions, but the secretary would not put it off if Frederick obeyed his father's commands and had ordered a caterer to serve lunch. Accordingly they all met at the appointed time and place.

Mr. Sumner told the senate. "Final instructions were received by the Atlantic cable from St. Petersburg on March 29, and at 4 o'clock on the morning of March 30 this important treaty was signed by Mr. Seward on the part of the United States and by Mr. de Stoeckl on the part of Russia."

Such a unique historical transaction was deemed worthy of portrayal on a painter's canvas. The artist was engaged for the work while all the characters were yet alive. The scene is in the secretary's office. He is seated with a chart across his lap, and the minister, a man of fine proportions, is standing pointing to a large globe. Mr. Chew is evidently reading the articles of the treaty, while the rest are listening. Senator Sumner and Frederick W. Seward are seated near together in one corner of the room. Some suggested that President Johnson should also be in the picture, but strong objection was made, and it was finally left to the discretion of the artist. He settled the matter by putting the president's likeness in a frame hanging on the wall of the office and near that part where Sumner and the younger Seward are seated.

Probably this treaty stands alone in the history of diplomacy as an important treaty conceived, initiated, prosecuted and completed without being preceded or attended by protocols or dispatches.

IS THE LAST WILL OF A SPY LEGAL?

Execution of a German Agent Caught in France Raises Interesting Question.

The execution in France last month of Frédéric von Meyeren on the charge of being a German spy has brought up an interesting legal question. After being condemned to death Von Meyeren carefully drew up his will, which he handed over to Lieutenant Wattinne, representing the French government at his execution. Wattinne turned over the will to the president of the Seine tribunal.

It is a question whether the latter will take the next steps necessary to having the wishes of Von Meyeren carried out, since, according to a French law passed in 1834, any will made by a person condemned to death, either before or after his sentence, is null and void, as he is considered incapable of making any disposition of his property.

If the French authorities should decide that, despite the existence of the aforesaid law, the will of Von Meyeren is not invalid the question of its status in Germany under the German law will still have to be thrashed out.

In his will the condemned man took special pains with the disposition of his property, apparently assuming that the document would be adjudged legal. He enumerated various pieces of property belonging to him in Germany, which he left to his wife, children, cousins, etc.

Von Meyeren was accused of having secured admission in March, 1916, to the fortified city of Nice and later to the entrenched camp of Paris by hiding his German nationality. From these places he kept up a correspondence with an espion agent, using sympathetic ink to set his communications past the French authorities. He was shot Jan. 15 at Vincennes just outside of Paris.

Referring to the matter of Von Meyeren's will, the Paris Figaro remarks: "No matter what happens, if the document containing the last wishes of Frédéric von Meyeren should be deposited in the hands of a Notary it would seem to imply that in France the testament of a spy is not a scrap of paper, void of all legal value."

West Point cadets made a fine showing in the inaugural parade on March 8, as they marched down Pennsylvania avenue, and they were lustily cheered by the big crowd. In the distance, the dome of the capitol appears in the distance.

Bathe Internally And Keep Well!

Nature has mightily equipped us all for two years to resist disease—but she requires that we keep her trained. We give her no chance if we permit the Lowest Intensity to be more or less charged with accumulated waste. Yet that is a universal condition today, as is proven by the number of laxative drugs that are consumed.

No real help comes in Nature's most effectual way, Internal Bathing and in an easy non-lubricating way keep the intestines as swift and clean as Nature demands it to be for perfect health and sure defense against contagious disease and a million other bright, healthy people testify to its results.

Mrs. James Kennedy, of Newmarket, Ohio, writes: "In less than three months I lost 15 pounds and regained my health. Tin bath treatment is great. I get up in the morning feeling as though the night's sleep had been good. It has all over the drugs and concoctions that are being sold in advertisements in the Sunday School books, deriving more benefit every time I use the tin bath." Truth.

Just call at The Huben Av. Pharmacy, B. L. Williams, Proprietor, 10th and Cooper Oak St., Newark, Ohio, and receive the "Dr. J. B. Casper" treatment. The most efficient device for Internal Bathing the "J. B. Casper" will also be shown and explained to you if you so desire—Adv.

Amazing Power of Bon-Opto To Make Weak Eyes Strong Doctor Says It Strengthens Eyesight 50 per cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would seem dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes, which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudinous more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be rid of the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription at home. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely used in Europe. I have given it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or misfit glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, redness, pain, swelling or irritation, conjunctivitis, coryza, smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or secret formula. It is an ordinary prescription, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by T. J. Evans and other druggists.

Dry, Hoarse or Painful Coughs Quickly Ended

Home-Made Remedy That Saves
You $2—Does the Work Thoroughly.

The prompt and positive action of this simple, inexpensive home-made remedy in quickly healing the inflamed or swollen membranes of the throat, chest or bronchial tubes and breaking up tight coughs, has caused it to sell in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its healing, soothing, influencing effect, gives a quick, pleasant loosening breathing becomes easier, "ticking" in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of Pineo (50 cents worth), into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. You then have a full pint—a faint supply of much better cough syrup than you could have ready-made for \$2.50. Keeps perfectly and will bring the pleasant taste. Pineo is a sweet and slightly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with granulated sugar and known the world over for its wonomeness, ease and certainty in overcoming asthama, coughs and chest colds. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pineo" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. Mary Pickford's picture is soon to adorn the walls of the Carnegie Institute. One of the largest collections of autographed theatrical pictures has just been presented to the directors and the last picture added to the dis-

Large crowds witnessed the picture yesterday in spite of the bad weather and all pronounced it one of the best in which Little Mary has ever appeared. Be sure and see it to-night and you will not be disappointed.

"The Scarlet Letter."

The wonderful success of Bernadene's "The Scarlet Letter" which has been reborn in William Fox's film of that tragic novel, has been attributed to its appeal to the human heart. For since it first went on the screen it has gained great sympathy with the fallen, but exalted Hester.

Soon after the book was published in 1850, it was made into an opera in France. In America, it was given Dramatic and the motion picture stars and actresses have played dramatic and literary in Massachusetts. The drama has had the effect of a passion play.

In the William Fox production the pathos of the novel has been heightened by the skillful interpretation. The spectator sees the action as if he had been taken back to old New England on a magic carpet to see from afar the entrances and exits of the characters in the great human drama. This wonderful picture will be seen at the Auditorium Friday and Saturday at 8 P.M.

Examine your teeth tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit lying between the crevices. YOUR DENTIST-FRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one or two conditions: Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germladen tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of dental salve, is now in action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposit. Second, it is particularly destructive to the growth of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c.

Send 4c. to Senreco, 304 Walnut St., Cincinnati Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid aroon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid aroon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

U. S. WAS ARMED NEUTRAL IN 1798

President Adams Obtained Laws to Protect American Ships.

FIRST "ARMED NEUTRALITY"

Russia Was Nation Which Invented This State of Near War Against England in 1780—Our Stand Was Taken Against French Depredations on Our Commerce.

Armed neutrality is described by authorities on international law as military measures for defending rights of neutrals against threatening infringements by a belligerent. It has generally concerned more than one power, and the most striking historical instances of armed neutralities were those of the northern European powers in 1780 and 1800, made to defend the principle of free ships and free goods adopted by treaty between the Baltic powers and opposed by England.

The leading English speaking authority, Oppenheim, says:

"In 1780, during war of Great Britain with her American colonies, France and Spain, Russia sent a circular to England, France and Spain, in which she proclaimed the following five principles: That neutral vessels should be allowed to navigate from port to port of belligerents and along the coast; that enemy goods on neutral vessels, contraband excepted, should not be seized by belligerents; that a port should be considered blockaded only if the blockading belligerent had stationed vessels there so as to create an obvious danger for neutral vessels entering the port."

First Armed Neutrality.

"In July and August, 1780, Russia entered into a treaty, first with Denmark and then with Sweden, for the purpose of enforcing those principles by equipping a number of men-of-war. Thus the 'armed neutrality' made its appearance."

The second armed neutrality was also called into existence by Russia in 1800 and was due to England's refusal to concede immunity from visit and search to neutral vessels under convoy. This led to a compromise in the 'maritime conventions' concluded by Russia and England in 1801.

The last time the United States was in a state of armed neutrality was during the war between France and England, which ended with the downfall of Napoleon. After many acts against American commerce bound for England, France, on Jan. 18, 1798, decreed that every vessel found at sea loaded with merchandise produced in England or her possessions could be seized.

Many American vessels were seized, and in June, 1798, President Adams began to obtain from Congress broad authority to protect American commerce and to put the United States in a better position to make war if it became necessary.

In rapid succession laws were made to increase the naval armament, to authorize a provisional army, to arrest and expel aliens, to authorize the defense of merchant ships against French war vessels and to enable the president to borrow money.

On July 7, 1798, President Adams approved an act reciting that since treaties repeatedly had been violated by France, just claims for reparation refused and a system of "predatory violence" had been pursued by the French government the United States was "of right freed and exonerated from the stipulations of the treaties."

Thirty years later France agreed to pay $6,250,000 to satisfy American claims.

The acts of Congress in 1798 were in the aggregate somewhat like the bill introduced in the Senate recently by Senator Fall.

PAYS FINE WITH POTATOES.

Woman Permitted to Furnish Ton of Coal as Bail.

When Mrs. Mary Gessamick was adjudged guilty of disorderly conduct by Alderman Frank B. Brown of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and ordered to pay a fine of $2.50 and the costs she produced two large potatoes from her clothing and offered them to the alderman. He accepted them, but further demanded $300 bail, which she offered to furnish in the form of a ton of coal in her cellar.

"Certainly," said the alderman. "Go home, Mrs. Gessamick."

"MOSQUITO FLEET" OF 2,250 BOATS READY

The navy department has completed plans for mobilizing the "mosquito fleet" of motorboats as submarine chasers in event of war. Contracts have been prepared which provide for outright purchase or leasing by the government of power boats or for gift of boats by owners.

The plan is to mobilize all motorboats of fifty foot length and over, arming them with guns of six inch caliber or less and forming them into an active fleet to patrol all coasts and the great lakes. There are 250 such boats now enrolled in the naval reserve. There are 2,000 additional available for service.

Hed Good Time. Riley H. Jones of First street, has well known B. & O. conductor, has returned from a visit in Washington, where he attended the inauguration of President Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Jones greatly enjoyed his visit. He stated that Ohio did not make the showing this year that it has in former inaugurations, but notwithstanding that fact, the Duckworth club of Cincinnati and the Democratic Gee club of Columbus, were two of the distinctive hits along the line of march.

Royal Neighbors. The Royal Neighbors Sewing circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Howard Weakley, 125 Spring street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All Royal Neighbors invited.

Guest of Rev. Mr. Franklin. Addison Freeman of Sydney, Australia, was the guest yesterday of Rev. L. P. Franklin in North First street. Mr. Freeman is enroute home after visiting in New York and Boston.

Injured by Snowball. A snowball hurled by a playmate struck Margaret Bowers, the 12 years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bowers, 325 West Church street, in the face, breaking her glasses and cutting her face in several places. Her eyes are not injured.

Window Shattered.

A heavy pole with an awning attached was torn loose by the wind at noon today, and in falling hit a large window in the room formerly occupied by the Newark Steam Laundry. The pole caught in holes made in the glass and hangs at a dangerous angle.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes Charming, Wavy, Lustrous and Thick in Few Moments.

Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scruffy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp; forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

HOUSE REPUBLICANS SUCCEED IN EFFORT TO PASS PET BILLS

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Columbus, March 8.—Carrying out an arrangement made last night between Governor Cox and Republican Floor Leader Frank Reighard and agreed to by the Republican house caucus, the lower house of the general assembly proceeded harmoniously today to expedite the work of the session in striking contrast to the filibustering scenes on the floor of the house yesterday and last night.

The Republicans were satisfied today when the house steering committee under the direction of the governor placed 20 Republican bills on the calendar. Every other bill considered today was a Republican measure.

The measures being considered were not important from a statewide standpoint but were important to local communities enabling the Republican representatives to get through measures demanded by their constituents.

The house adopted the Mooney resolution providing for recess March 10 instead of today as originally planned but amended the resolution fixing the date of final adjournment March 21, instead of March 20. The members will return here on March 20.

The first bill passed by the house today was by Representative Miller of Stark county, creating a municipal court for Alliance. The house also adopted a bill by Representative Heinzelman of Mahoning county, creating an additional common pleas judge for Mahoning county.

Upon motion of Representative Billingslea of Butler county the house voted today to relieve the public utilities committee of the Davis Bill requiring Long distance telephone lines to furnish toll line connection with all local exchanges, and place the bill on the calendar. Local independent telephone companies are urging the passage of the Davis bill.

The house defeated the Kimball bill to relieve mortgages from taxation and provide for the payment of a fee of one half of one per cent when mortgages are filed for recording.

STOKOWSKI AND DR. MUCK.

By Mrs. Joseph Sprague. New York, March 6.—It is true that Gustav Mahler was the greatest conductor, the New York Philharmonic was the most maligned musician who ever set foot on American soil. It is also true that Josef Strauss is not a great conductor, and that the extract I send herewith from Daniel Gregory Mason's letter as absolutely worthless. Mr. Mahler was a great artist, Mr. Strauss a good conductor, but not a great one, and the personnel of the orchestra he conducted was not up to par.

Complete safeguards are thrown around everything pertaining to this plan for reforming our city government, all of which will prevent the foisting on the public of any charter that a majority of the voters does not approve. All the laws for changes in city government provide for strictly non-partisan elections.

As to the four cases in the Terrell and Crozier families, whose houses are on adjoining lots in Western avenue, nothing new has developed.

Dr. Knauss said today that there was nothing about the situation to alarm Newark people unduly. The four cases are localized within a small area, every one who has been exposed, as nearly as can be ascertained, has been or will be vaccinated and the health officer does not anticipate any spread of the disease threatening an epidemic.

Mrs. G. W. Cordray who keeps a boarding house, 145 West Main street, said this morning that none of the boarders at her house, about twenty, had been exposed to the disease, but that the new maid Blanche Terrell, who helped wait staff had been, and that as a precautionary measure all had been quarantined.

Young People's concerts being entirely sold out before the beginning of the season. The high ideals of the society regarding programs and performances make them a success.

Mr. Dumrosch introduced many novelties and revived several unfamiliar classical compositions.

Owing to the impossibility of providing sufficient seats at Aeolian hall for all its patrons and subscribers, Stokowski and his orchestra will make an important change in its concert plans of next season.

The Friday afternoon concerts will be transferred from Aeolian hall to Carnegie hall, and will be given on Thursday afternoons instead of Fridays on Saturday evenings.

ADULT BIBLE CLASS CONVENTION WILL MEET AT LANCASTER

Great interest is being manifested throughout the state in the coming state adult bible class convention to be held at Lancaster March 27th and 28th. Every Protestant church in Lancaster is helping in preparatory plans.

Interesting features are being provided by the program committee, Watkin Davis of Philadelphia, the song leader, is to play old hymns on a one string fiddle of his own manufacture. Miss Margaret L. Matheny, 9 years old, is to whistle for the convention. She whistles sacred tunes with rare sweetness and captivates her audience.

Among the special leaders who have been secured are: Dr. John G. Benson of Detroit, Evangelistic leader; W. C. Pearce, International Adult Bible Class Superintendent, and B. S. Forsythe, Adult Superintendent of Pennsylvania.

One day preparatory rallies for this section of the State will be held at Columbus, March 25. Mrs. A. H. Metzler, Chairman of Committee.

In addition to the delegates sent to Lancaster, classes are invited to send several representatives to the nearest rally.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS MEET COMMITTEES ON FREIGHT STATION

A. C. Clark, chief of facilities department, H. R. Talcott, chief engineer of surveys and Superintendent, B. F. Stevens of the Baltimore & Ohio railway, met last night with the freight stations committee of the Chamber of Commerce and a joint committee from the city council, Chamber of Commerce and Trades & Labor Assembly to go over the plans for the new freight station and the proposed subway.

A week ago the same committees inspected the plans of the Pennsylvania railway relating to the new freight station and the subway.

Messrs. Clark and Talcott came from Baltimore at the direction of Vice President Thompson to make satisfactory arrangements with the local committees so that the work of construction can be rushed this spring.

It is generally estimated that the total improvements to be made in Newark will cost $1,500,000, and when they are completed Newark will have two of the finest freight stations and the most complete terminals of any city of twice its size in the state.

GUARDSMAN WITH GERMAN SYMPATHY
GETS 5-YEAR TERM

San Antonio, March 8.—The letter, the writing of which resulted in the conviction of Paul Scharenberg, a private in Company L, First Minnesota Infantry, and his sentence to five years imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth, became public yesterday. "To hell with America." "They are after the president, the common scoundrel," and "I and 100,000 other German reservists hope that Germany will come over here and smash this country," are prominent passages in the letter, which was written in German. Scharenberg is held in the Fort Sam Houston blockade here, waiting to be transferred to the Leavenworth prison.

He was tried some time ago, but the results of the court-martial have just been passed upon, filed and "published."

He was found guilty of two charges, furnishing military information to Germany and of using "contemptuous and disrespectful language against the president of the United States and the country."

Scharenberg was taken into custody while his regiment was at Camp Wilson. The letter, addressed to his mother in Germany, was intercepted by the British and sent to the United States. It was turned over to the war department and forwarded to the late General Funston at southern department headquarters for investigation.

BELIEVE SENATE WILL CHANGE RULES WHICH WILL LIMIT DEBATES

Washington, March 8.—Revision of the senate's rules whereby filibusters such as that which resulted in the defeat of the armed neutrality bill, will be prevented in the future, it was generally believed today, soon will become an accomplished fact.

This belief was based on the action of yesterday's caucuses of Democratic and Republican senators in approving a rule under which debate may be limited by a two-thirds vote of the senate. A resolution embodying the proposed rule, prepared by Major Leader Martin, was ready to be laid before the senate today and will be pressed for prompt adoption.

The chances are that the new rule will be adopted by the senate without a prolonged struggle. This is indicated by the fact that the rule was endorsed unanimously by a caucus of 40 Democratic senators and by 30 to 20 in a caucus of Republican senators.

Interest in the proposed rule is high, and it is expected that when the resolution is presented, they will seize the opportunity to make speeches on the armed neutrality bill.

CHATHAM CHARGE.

SALESMAN SAYS TANLAC PUT HIM IN GOOD SHAPE FOR WORK

TIRED FEELING IS GONE NOW

"I have noticed a big difference in my sales since I started taking Tanlac," said H. B. DeLong, traveling salesman for the Sears and Nichols canning company of Chillicothe. "An man in my business must look cheerful and feel like keeping everybody in a good humor," he continued. "It used to be that I felt tired and worn out all the time, and didn't have the right energy and good humor.

"My stomach was in bad condition, and being on the road like I am, you have to eat whenever you get a chance. I got so anything I ate disagreed with me. After eating I had a heavy, bloated feeling in my stomach. Food didn't digest right. When I belched, bitter tastes came up in my throat."

Stomach Bothered Him.
"I had a burning, gnawing feeling in my stomach sometimes, and my appetite began to go back on me. No matter how good food was, I didn't seem to be hungry for it. Much of the time I had a dull, listless feeling."

"When I went to bed at night I was so tired that I ought to have gone to sleep right away, but I'd stay awake for hours. When I did get to sleep I couldn't rest right. In the mornings I woke up tired."

"I heard a good deal about Tanlac, and decided to try it. Well sir, it's the best thing I ever did. Tanlac straightened me out in no time. I now have a good appetite and can eat anything I want without feeling bad afterwards."

Gets Back His Energy.
"That tired, draggy feeling has left me, and I feel full of energy and good humor. My sales books show much better success. I am glad to tell people about Tanlac because I know it will help anybody that feels like I did."
